☞ The New York World commends General Breckinridge for his manly denunciation of the Ku-Klux, and says: "The South has no worse enemies than those who apologize for these outrages by attempting to explain them away. They constitute a very ugly fact in Southern society, and their suppression is essential to the peace which must precede prosperity."

True.

The particular side of the Georgia question which Revels espoused is not worth regarding, that being a matter in which he had no choice, and was obliged to take his cue from his Radical patrons in the Senate. [N. Y. World.

☞ See Fourth Page.

Why?

Why is it that Butler, to-day, is emboldened to urge the passage of a bill which would prolong the terms of Bullock and the present Legislature, in Georgia, in contempt of the Constitution of the State, and of the rights and wishes of the people? [Chicago Times.

Because he thinks it will help Radicalism, and the Radical rule is to do whatever is for party interest, though it violates every provision of law, every sentiment of justice, and every impulse of humanity.

☞ Reading matter on every page.

Applying the Lash.

The Atlanta Slander Mill, in its contribution to the Washington Chronicle, on the 17th, cracks the party lash at Senator Sawyer, the Radical from South Carolina, who has had the unutterable audacity to favor the Bingham Amendment. The Mill thus discourseth:

Much astonishment is expressed in Republican circles at the singular position of Senator Sawyer, of South Carolina, in regard to the Georgia bill.

☞ The Cincinnati Enquirer thus lashes Grant, because of his silence under accusation:

"A prominent Republican newspaper in New York commends Grant for maintaining silence with reference to the slanders with which he is assailed.

"Does that newspaper remember that one of the most eminent of the British poets says that silence is 'the knave's repute, and garnisher of fools?'"

Washington.

Whittemore wept. But he afterwards paid the following graceful and merited tribute to Washington:

"What chance has an honest man there." "None—none at all. I tell you, my friends, that a representative sent there to honestly discharge his duty will sink deeper out of sight into the sea of iniquity than ever Jonah did in the whale's belly!"

He shows his idea of his own character by seeking to go back there, without any idea either of imitating Jonah.

Whittemore Makes Headway.

Whittemore is not altogether unsuccessful in his canvassing for Congressional re-election. He has convinced one wise Cuffee, who thus soliloquises:

"Why, all de fuss is about nuffin. Mr. Whittemore only sell one ship, which de buckra want. If de buckra git um, we no git um. Mr. Whittemore too sharp for dat; he sell de ships quick, for five hundred dollars, and build two schools wid de money, and de balance of de trade he got in he pocket to pay us for de lost time when we vote for him to go back agin. Dar, now, what you call dat but a fedder in he cap, and money in we pocket.

Tennessee Butler and the Cadetship Sale.

The Washington correspondent of the New York World says Butler took the unanimous vote of censure with as much ease as he did the iron-clad oath, after being a rebel member of the Tennessee Legislature.

The following is the Radical philosophy of the action on Butler's case:

A Radical member said, sotto voce, after the vote: "Let's pass a resolution, and ask Whittemore to return." Another and more prominent Radical added: "The House has this day settled the principle that, in selling a cadetship, a member need not take the money until after the appointment instead of before."

The following is the true philosophy of the matter. If he deserved censure he was guilty. If he was guilty, he deserved expulsion. As he deserved expulsion, and the Radicals didn't expel him, the omission was a disgrace to the body, and an outrage on the country.

The Brunswick and Albany Railroad Trouble.

The Brunswick Appeal is full of the Brunswick and Albany Railroad trouble. It contains our own solution of the matter, and shows clearly that there was no politics in the affair, and that it was a simple conflict between laborers of the road. The whole matter grew out of the discharge of the man Babcock, who is a Republican, substituted by Hulburt, another Republican. Babcock's friends kicked up, and used all the political bosh that was employed. The citizens had nothing to do with the squabble. The drunken malcontent laborers found it serviceable, and yelled politics.

The editor says the company has paid its debts promptly. He also says the reports of the trouble are exaggerated.

The people held a meeting, and investigated the matter. A committee reported, confirming the view we have already presented. They compliment Mr. Conant for pushing the road through. The ex-Mayor, Mr. Houston, Rowe, the Ordinary, Reed, Sheriff, Christian, the Solicitor General, and others, make statements.

Mr. Babcock publishes a card of complaint.

The following is worthy of publication as being Northern testimony against the truth of the charge that there was any politics in the affair:

A CARD.—Knowing that the leading statements contained in a telegram, dated Savannah, Ga., March 13th, and signed by one W. L. Avery, (from this place) and forwarded to certain Senators in the U. S. And for the benefit of our friends at a distance, we make this denial above our own proper signatures.

OUR NEW YORK LETTER.

The Stagnation in Business—Southern Trade at the Metropolis—Bingham's Amendment.

Special Correspondence of The Constitution.]

NEW YORK, March 17, 1870.

Editor Constitution: Business of every kind still stagnated under the decline in gold and uncertain chances in the times. Many of the largest wholesale houses of the city are doing little or nothing; while in every quarter the retailers are discharging clerks and curtailing expenses. The extensive dry goods house of E. S. Jaffray & Co., one of the largest on Broadway, discharged nearly one-half its clerks the other day, and in some departments of the store business has almost closed. The first move for retrenchment by the firm was the reduction in salaries fifty per cent, but a number of employes who had been engaged for the year, promptly invoked the aid of the courts, and secured the full salary due. The experience of this firm is only an example of the situation all over the city.

The "great advertising medium," the new post-office fence, is almost totally deserted by the advertisers, who but lately crowded its ample expanse. Unless business takes an upward turn before long, the lessee will have to look elsewhere than to his patron for his $10,000 rental, which he is annually required to pay the government.

The speculation in gold, which was very heavy last week, has been less active for the last few days, and seems to have been brought almost to a halt. In consequence, the cotton market is steadier and firmer, and is recovering something of the firmness which it lost last week, during the Wall street excitement, and the news of the Liverpool failures. Cotton lately has seemed almost as sensitive and murcurial as gold itself, and the speculative mania is beginning to develop itself in the market of the Southern staple. This is quite likely to become still more manifest as gold recedes to par, for it will be necessary to have some material for speculation, some purse for the gamblers, and cotton will answer just as well as gold. Grain serves the purpose in Chicago, petroleum in Pittsburgh, and after gold is exhausted, New York will probably turn to cotton.

But though business is so generally dull and the immediate prospect unfavorable, the tone of the market in raw and manufactured cottons, and other fabrics as well, is firm and confident. It is a common remark of the largest city merchants, that the Southern trade has been their only support this winter; that the West has supplied them with little or nothing, and they look with confidence for a great increase and development of the business with the South during the coming season. No doubt that the intimate and important commercial relations which existed before the war are to be revived and restored, on a much broader and better foundation. The Southern buyers come to our market with the money or its equivatent—cotton, and can make much better terms, and receive a much more cordial welcome than the Westerner, who wants, always, to buy on six months or a years time. The continued improvement and devolpment of the railrood facilities which open up the great and prolific regions of the interior South to Northern commerce and intercourse, is watched with much interest and confidence by the capitalists of this city.

President Huntington, of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad, informed me the other day that the new bonds of the road were selling with unexpected rapidity, and that active opeartions on the road would be begun as soon as spring sufficiently opened.

Not much stock is taken here among well informed circles, of the extravagant stories telegraphed from the Brunswick and Albany Railroad. They come too suspiciously close to the critical time of the Bingham Amendment, and savor, too, strongly of political, rather than railroad objects.

The best spirit of Republicanism in this city strongly favors Mr. Bingham's proposition, and its passage by the Senate will command the full approval of those who are best informed and only competent to judge of the state of Georgia. The memory of Bullock, in his earlier days, as a telegraph operator and the betrayer of his best friend's confidence, to give him any very firm hold on the respect or confidence of the people.

THE RAILROAD DIFFICULTY.—We publish elsewhere a statement from THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION, with reference to the much talked of difficulties on the Brunswick and Albany Railroad. We have received a lengthy communication from a citizen of Brunswick, detailing substantially the same state of facts, which, we feel convinced, are correct. The whole strife was the result of selfish spite, in our opinion. That it was made the basis of a political argument in Washington is the fault of the political jugglers who have congregated there to plot against the interests of our people. "Drowning men seize at straws." The truth of the proverb has been, in this instance, most forcibly illustrated by Butler, Bullock and Blodgett. [Macon Journal.

The cotton exports for the same period compare as follows: For the year ended with December 31, 1869, 722,618,928 pounds; value $187,762,477. The year ended with December 31, 1868, 786,600,776; value, $165,692,137.

THE STATE AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY.

A Letter from Mr. True, Giving Valuable Information About Important Matters.

MADISON, March 18, 1870.

Editor Constitution: I proceeded to Macon, as ordered by the Executive Committee, and in company with Secretary Lewis took a complete list of all the machines and implements left over from the fair, and by the kindness of Col. White, Superintendent of the Macon and Western Railroad, these goods were transported to Atlanta free, and will be stored at the old market house, where the office of the Secretary is now located, to await the orders of the owners. The freight on these articles has not been paid, and must be settled before the goods will be delivered. The Society is abundantly able to settle all outstanding claims, and will do so as soon as these freights and other property now in the hands of the Society is disposed of. The medals and diplomas have not been recived by the Secretary as yet, but are expected soon. It is proposed to have in Atlanta, some time during April, another agricultural convention, composed of delegates from every county society in the State, for the discussion of agricultural questions. Secretary Lewis informs me two of the railroads have agreed to pass three delegates from each county society in the States both ways free, and when all have agreed to the proposition, a call for the convention will be made. I respectfully suggest that a programme be immediately made; speakers and essayists be appointed to take part in the exercises, and that each paper read become the property of the Society, and, if worthy, be published in the annual proceedings of the Society.

Meningitis.

From the Telegraph and Messenger.]

GRIFFIN, GA., March 14, 1870.

Messrs. Editors: That dire affection, cerebro-spinal miningetis, having become prevalent in our country, anything that can possibly throw light on its nature and treatment, in our mind, should be made known to the profession. Having seen numerous accounts of its prevalence in the lower parts of this State, we have taken this method of giving our treatment in this disease, which has proven uniformly successful. We know that communications through the newspapers of the land are not considered in strict accordance with true medical ethics, so we beg the indulgence of the medical profession in this urgent necessity of the times.

The treatment adopted by us in the epidemics of 1862 and 1865 was as follows: We in the first place give from 5 grains to 30 grains of calomel, according to the age of the patient, to be repeated if necessary, until the bowels act; apply flannel well saturated with spirits turpentine along the whole course of the spine, run over this a smoothing iron moderately heated; keep this up until the parts are blistered. Give from ten to fifty grains of bromide of potassium, according to the age of the patient, every three hours; after getting the patient fully under the influence of the bromide, commence and give large and heroic doses of sulphate of quinine.

This treatment should be carried out by some intelligent physician, as they alone could adapt the the treatment of different cases, and appreciate the actions of the different remedies. We regard the disease as a miasmatic affection, making a profound impression on the nervous centres. Hoping that this communication will prove of some benefit, we remain

Very respectfully,
Your ob't serv't,
J. J. KNOTT, M. D.

GRIFFIN, GA., March 18, 1870.

Editor Constitution: Since the within article was penned, myself and colleague, Dr. C. L. Herbert, have treated two decided cases of this disease, both cases are now considered out of danger. The first case, that of a negro man, aged 23 years—was one of the severest cases I ever attended, and was pronounced by Dr. Herbert, to be the severest that he ever witnessed.

To give the profession some idea of the treatment adopted in this case, we will simply state that inside of twelve hours, we administered two hundred grains of calomel, ten drachms bromide potassium and six drachms of sulphate of quinine. The quinine and potassium were administered partly by enema. We are confident when this treatment is adopted in time, of saving our patient.

Very respectfully yours,
J. J. KNOOT, M. D.

BY W. A. HEMPHILL & CO.
I. W. AVERY, Editor.
MORNING EDITION.
ATLANTA, GEORGIA, MARCH 22.

☞ The Ohio Legislature will adjourn on the 31st.

☞ Governor Alcorn has appointed Gen. J. C. Webber, Mayor of Vicksburg.

☞ St. Patrick's day was quietly, but generally celebrated in Ireland.

☞ There are 50,000 sacks of corn in Nashville awaiting shipment.

☞ Julian C. Verplank, the well known author is dead.

☞ New York is soon to have a company of genuine Spanish ballet dancers.

☞ Judge Charlton, Probate Judge of Morgan county, Ala., has been assassinated at Decatur.

☞ Alexander H. Stephens is credited with saying that Jefferson's first inaugural and Lincoln's first inaugural are the two finest pieces of the kind in our history.

No Money from The State Road.

No money has been put in the Treasury from the State Road earnings of last month. Blodgett, "Come Home."

☞ Senator Morton thinks Congress has gained by obtaining Revels, the negro, for Jefferson Davis.

If the Kansas tales of Revels' stealing are true, Congressmen may lose by it.

Does He Get Pay?

Does Foster Blodgett draw pay as Superintendent of the State Road, while he is dangling attendance in Washington and intriguing to get recognized as Senator?

☞ The Washington correspondent of the Petersburg Index is responsible for the following:

The defeat of Bullock in the Senate would kill off the schemes against Tennessee and other States.

THANKS.—Mr. Er Lawshe has just returned from Washington. We thank him for a batch of valuable papers and documents. Mr. Lawshe represents that the squabble over the Georgia Bill is warm, and both sides badly scared. The chances are so equally divided, that it is impossible to tell how the matter will go.

☞ The Senate Committee have reported against Gen. Ames, the Mississippi Senator, because he was not a citizen at the time of his election

Ames is not sharp. Let him do a theft or lechery, as was charged on Revels, and see how quickly he will sail in. He has not yet proven himself qualified.

☞ Morton, in his speech on the Georgia bill, said the proposed Bingham amendment was a source of exultation to the extreme Southern wing of the Democratic party.

This is his chief reason for opposing it. And no better reason could be given to a Radical. Questions of right don't enter into the matter. Forney had better be more careful how he lathers into "abstract opposition." He whacks his friends incessantly.

☞ Senator Morton, of Indiana, happily complimented Mr. Revels, after his speech, saying that in the change from Jeff Davis to the present Senator of Mississippi, the Senate had lost nothing of intelligence, and had gained much in patriotism and virtue.—Chicago Republican.

We are very glad to learn the Radical idea of virtue from two such leading and orthodox sources as Senator Morton and the Chicago Republican.

Revels is proven to have stolen one or two thousand dollars from the black church in Kansas, for which he was practicing ministry, besides making love to the church sisters, married and single.

Theft and lechery are virtue in Radical opinion.

Persistence in Slander.

Mr. Conant, in his last letter to this paper a day or two back, said that the Brunswick and Albany Railroad trouble had no politics in it, and that Judge Avery's dispatch had been garbled.

The Radical organ fails to reproduce Mr. Conant's letter, putting the matter in its true light, affirms the truth of the slander, and says Judge Avery's dispatch was not garbled.

Of course it is well known that the organ is the creature of Governor Bullock and Superintendent Blodgett, and that it is run in their interest. It is a mere hack, and in no sense of the word an independent journal. It is the creature of the Radical faction. Therefore, when it traduces the people of Georgia, and in the face of facts persists in slander, it is simply doing its allotted part. It is a part of Governor Bullock's programme to asperse the Democrats of Georgia by charging them with political intolerance. This is the capital he hopes to use successfully in getting Congress to continue his rule in Georgia two years longer than he was elected under his own Constitution. And his paper is co-operating with him.

Mr. Conant says that the publication of the whole of Judge Avery's dispatch would have shown that it applied only to Brunswick. Cut down as it was published, it seemed to apply to the whole State. It needs no argument to prove who garbled it. Gov. Bullock was the party interested in the slander, and he was the party to whom Judge Avery directed the Senators to whom he dispatched, to apply.

We reiterate upon Mr. Conant's authority that Avery's dispatch was garbled, and we state upon our own authority that Gov. Bullock did the garbling. And we state on our own authority, still farther, that the organ deserves the condemnation of every decent man in Georgia, let his politics be what it may, for persistence in this slander.

It is incontrovertibly proven that the affair was a simple riot among the laborers of the railroad, caused by the change of one Republican Superintendent for another Republican Superintendent—a mere local trouble without politics in it. And Mr. Conant regrets that the politicians are doing the very thing that the organ is improperly doing—using it to the disadvantage of the State.

HOW TO CLEANSE WATER.—The editor of Hall's Journal of Health, has often in ancient times "settled" Mississippi water, and made it look "as clear as a bell," by tying a bit of alum to a string and twirling it around for a few seconds beneath the surface of a glassful. The same authority further states that if a lump of alum as large as the thumb joint is thrown into four or five gallons of boiling soap-suds, the scum runs over and leaves the water clean and soft and useful for washing.

The Funding Bill.

The Funding Bill is now attracting an infinite variety of comment. The New York Journal of Commerce bites at it in this style:

A very brief examination of the Funding Bill, which has passed the Senate will satisfy any intelligent man of the incapacity of our legislators to do justice to questions of finance. The proposition to allow the issue of National Bank notes for greenbacks, taken in connection with the remainder of the Banking Act, is exquisitely absurd. It is more of a joke than the oft-quoted resolves of the village society respecting its church enterprise.

"Resolved, That we proceed at once to to build a new brick church.

"Resolved, That the bricks and other material in the old church be used, as far as they will go, in constructing the new edifice.

"Resolved, That the congregation worship in the old church until the new one is completed."

The finance measure will beat this, for it will stand in all its parts as follows:

Be it enacted, That the issue of greenbacks shall be limited to $356,000,000, which shall be a legal tender for public and private debts.

Be it enacted, That national bank notes shall be issued to the amount of $300,000,000, redeemable in the aforesaid greenbacks.

Be it enacted, That a new issue of bank notes may be made to the full extent of the authorized greenbacks, the latter to be withdrawn as the notes are substituted for them.

Be it enacted, That any bank failing to redeem any of its issues in greenbacks on demand shall be wound up in charge of a receiver.

This completes the case. The bank notes are first made redeemable in greenbacks. Then the quantity of the issues are doubled and the greenbacks all withdrawn and canceled, but the obligation to redeem in them remains untouched! That will do for the present.

OUR PARIS LETTER.

The French Condition—Ollivier—The Orleans Influences—Bismarck—Infallibility will Probably Succeed—Isabella's Extravagances—The Political Prisoners—New Advertising.

Special Foreign Cor. of The Constitution.]

PARIS, March 5, 1870.

Editor Constitution: The Emperor of Russia is credited with the very sensible axiom: "it is necessary that reforms come from above, if one does not wish them to come from below." His "cousin," Napoleon the Third, has fully recognized this truism, in adopting parliamentarism. These last few days, while the Corps Legislatif is resting from its labors, his ultra-supporters—the celebrated 56, commonly known as the "Arcadians," have been earwigging His Majesty, on the lightness with which he has sacrificed their political support, in permitting the Cabinet to legislate as it pleases, hinting that there is no Emperor now. Napoleon the Third reminded them that the exigences of politics have no bowels of compassion; that the country unmistakably claimed the restoration of its liberties; that the dynasty to be secure, must concede them, and that their fidelity to the throne would not be less loyal now than heretofore. This declaration only made confusion more confounded. The Thermopylean band is becoming disorganized, and instead of 56, they will not count more than 40 at the reassembling of the Chamber, and before the close of the session they will be a thing of the past.

These Ronherites embrace all that is reactionary—they uphold all that was irritating and arbitrary, during the nearly twenty years of absolutism, happily ended. They have too many scruples and too little logic in their ideas. They blame and carp, but propose nothing; their chiefs, Pinard and Forcade, when invested with power, promoted no new liberty, redressed no wrong, but restricted the little freedom that existed. Can they present a programme more liberal than Olivier, who, without enumerating his measures, has presented a group of reforms that must make France contented, peaceable and free?

Some political criticism is taking place on the Orleanist influences, said to have sway in the counsels of the Ministry. The motive for such, springs from the circumstance that several of the Orleanist party sit on Commissions—Guizot, for example. But then, Odilon Barrat, the Restor of the Left, presides over a Committe for reducing the system of centralization—the bane of France—under every reign. If the want of the moment is to govern the country by the country, it is plain that the policy which attracts the best talent to carry out the work, irrespective of politics, is a first and national one. Another question—why do the Arcadians and Republicans hold aloof from the task, and decline to act on these Commissions?

Bismarck has shown a little of his cloven foot, these last few days. He does not renounce the idea of absorbing Southern Germany—be it in ages to come—but for the present, it is better to consolidate and enjoy what the Confederation of the North has won. The attitude of France and Austria has clipped the Chancellor's wings. The Berlin Parliament has carried, by an immense majority, the abolition of the punishment of death; but, as an offset, Saxony and a few of the Duchies, having tried the experiment, demand its restoration.

The supreme moment approaches in Rome, when the dogma of infallibility will be put to the vote. It is likely to be carried, but it will be a victory more fatal than a defeat. The Pope was called a quarter of a century ago the "Benevolent," but he has long since parted with the claim to this title. He is as arbitrary as any Divine Right monarch. His high-handed proceedings have provoked a natural schism in the American church—the fire will spread. In Gallicanism, he has found his Frankenstein. He desires to reform the French Catechism, drafted by the French Bishops under the first Napoleon, and recast those paragraphs which inculcate the payment of taxes, military service, and the recognition of the dynasty. If the French and other ambassadors spoke in less honeyed phrases to the Pontiff, he might be brought to reason. Those French Bishops who oppose his views he designates "fools." Meantime the Pope has made his will.

When the coin of Italy, Belgium, and Switzerland was allowed to circulate in France, all parties agreed to issue a certain amount, pro rata to its population, of a fixed standard, etc. The Roman government was allowed, without signing the treaty, to enjoy the clauses of the "most favored nation;" the consequence is, the papal money has been weighed in the balance and found wanting in the standard of silver, and refused everywhere. The faithful are requested to pay the Pope in his own coin, and the Senate has received a petition from a Free Thinker laboring "under the ignorant patience of taxation" to pay the French clergy in the rejected coin of their master.

Since Isabella came to Paris, now nearly eighteen months since, she not only has expended the interest on twenty-five millions of francs, but five millions of the capital in addition. At this rate of living, the ex-King believes they will be parvenus in a few years, and claims the French tribunal to restrain her ex-majesty. The latter replies, when her son comes of age, he will be King, and money will be abundant. In the meantime, the Don does not feel quite at home at the Basilewski palace, and finds what consolation he can at the Freres-Provencaux and the Cafe Anglais.

The political prisoners, arrested during the "nights" of February last—491—will, before the end of the week, be reduced to 85—these still under a regrettable preventive arrest, are mixed up in a very serious conspiracy, of which the authorities hold the evidence, and will produce at a public trial. So much the better, as we are somewhat incredulous about these conspiracies after previous false alarms. The prisoners, so far as the prison rules are concerned, are unanimous in their praises of them, and only demand to be immediately tried.

In the rue Amelot, a husband has killed his wife, and then committed suicide. He has been observed to be very depressed since attending Troppmann's execution. By a letter, which he wrote to a neighbor, he accuses her former master of seducing his wife. The murderer severed the poor woman's head with a razor, opened her body, believing she was enceinte by the suspected, and scattered the viscera on the floor.

The newest way of advertising in the journals has just been adopted, by the first "dry goods store" in Paris—viz., to publish a plan of the shop, its divisions, where the different counters for special articles exist, and the department where the "alarming sacrifices" take place.

GEORGIA.

Various Matters of Interest About our Condition.

RADICAL GARBLING.

The attention of a member of the Senate was called this morning to an example of how Forney's Chronicle garbles the editorials of the Democratic journals of Georgia. In this instance a forgery was committed. The Macon Telegraph and Messenger was credited with words it did not use. A more glaring outrage and wrong was never perpetrated. It is to be hoped the attention of the Senate will be called to this matter, that it may be seen how much reliance can be placed in the statements of the paid organ of the Bullock ring with reference to affairs in Georgia.—Wash. Cor. Baltimore Gazette.

MORTON AND NOT BULLOCK WROTE REVELS' RHETORIC.

Senator Revels is improving. When he first took his seat in the Senate he spelled President, "Prezzedent," Georgia, "Gorgia," and used i's instead of I's. He sent in his resolutions, etc., prefaced in writing with, "Mr. Prezzedent, I beg leave to present the following resolution." Now he spells President and Georgia correctly, uses capital I's, and is fast getting the hang of parliamentary usage. Although it was announced, on what was considered good authority, that Gov. Bullock had dictated to a short hand writer the speech which Revels delivered yesterday, the speech itself refutes the assertion. Bullock has no literary ability whatever. The speech delivered yesterday by Revels is unquestionably Morton's. His earmarks are visible all through it. It contains the same quotations which may be found scattered through Morton's speeches in the Globe. When Morton complimented Revels yesterday, he complimented himself!—Ibid.

SENATOR SCHURZ DELIVERS A RIDDLER AGAINST BULLOCK.

As the discussion upon the Georgia bill progresses the muddle becomes more confused. Each additional speech but discloses another peculiar view of the case, and each Senator has his special premises and reasoning to work out a conclusion, the Senate being apparently evenly divided upon the question, "Shall the Bingham Amendment be adopted?

Senator Schurz, this afternoon, made one of the ablest speeches of the session in favor of the bill as it came from the House. He was listened to by the entire Senate with notable interest throughout, and at the close of his argument was the recipient of congratulations from nearly all of the Senators, who made haste to take him by the hand. Such was the power of his eloquence, the force of his logic, and the rhetorical perfection of his speech, that it commanded alike the admiration of those who agreed as well as those who disagreed with Mr. Schurz in opinion and sentiment upon the subject under consideration.

Mr. Schurz completely riddled the argument of Mr. Morton, and made that most radical of Radicals ridiculous in the eyes of his brother Senators and unhappy in himself. He showed that this Sentorial Samson, like the one of old, was shaking the pillar that would bring down the edifice and crush him and his party in its ruins. It was reconstruction falling to pieces. He charged that this attempt of the adventurer Bullock and his party to perpetuate themselves in office was a "gross, palpable, and flagrant usurpation, and if Congress encourages, aids, or winces at it, they are particeps criminis." He was disgusted with the prevarication of some Republican Senators, and thought it would be more manly in them to come out squarely, as did Senator Wilson, and proclaim that, "Law or no law, we intend to hold the power in Georgia."

In his peroration Mr. Schurz fairly roused his auditors to their feet, and warned Senators of the consequences of the attempted usurpation, and asked them if they had considered what must be the fate of a usurper with his foot upon the neck of an unruly people; and he begged them not to put aside the Constitution and all law, nor to descend to mean tricks and small devices.

Such a thorough castigation as the extremists received at the hands of Mr. Schurz has not occurred upon that floor since they came in power, and they felt it keenly, save his colleague. Drake, who, like a wild animal furious at the punches he received, growled and gnashed his teeth and pawed and roared at the rebels, and proposed an amendment providing that soldiers be quartered upon the Southerners, and that levies be made upon them in sums of one hundred to one thousand dollars a piece, after the manner of the Mexican banditti, but his proposition was called monstrous by Trumbull and repudiated by others, and it will have the votes of none but Drake himself and such small fry as Thayer.—Wash. cor. Richmond Dispatch.

BULLOCK ENLISTS PETTICOAT LOBBYISTS.

Some newspaper men of both parties noticed to-day an incident going to show a game of the Bullock faction, to use a female lobby in connection with the Georgia business, and the comment was made that these proceedings had better be conducted with more regard to appearances. [Wash, Cor. N. Y. World

THE DEBATE ON THE 17TH.—BULLOCK'S EMPIRE WANING.

The galleries of the Senate to-day presented a very marked contrast to the throng and excitement of yesterday, on the occasion of a mulatto reading a speech prepared for him. There were few there to appreciate some of the keenest and most effective work ever done in the Chamber. Mr. Howard had the floor, but gave way to Spencer, the carpet-bagger from Alabama, who read an essay. This worthy began with his hands in his breeches pockets, and looked for all the world like a livery stable keeper airing his Sunday clothes. The bulk of this essay—which, like Revels' speech, had been written for him by an outsider—consisted of the old story of outrage and murder, which has been on the boards this four years and more, as pretext for despotic and corrupt legislation.

Spencer attracted very little attention, even when he indulged in a fling at his colleague, Warner, for his alleged conservative tendencies. He remarked, with happy acumen, that, if the people of Alabama had their way, neither he nor his colleague would be there. Mr. Howard came next, making the best of a bad case, but he was not left long unmolested. First came Mr. Carpenter with a damaging interruption, then Senator Thurman, then Mr. Pomeroy, then Mr. Edmunds, who was pittiless, then Carl Schurz, with one of those quiet, well bred, pregnant interrogatories which are equal to some men's speeches, then Mr. Howe, then Mr. Trumbull, and lastly Mr. Morrill, of Vermont, all of these—save, perhaps, Mr. Pomeroy—indicating that they utterly dissented from the Bullock line of politics. Mr. Trumbull made a capital exposition of the Constitution. Mr. Howard is usually frank and direct in his style of argument, announcing boldly his conclusions and policy, but to-day he seemed to feel that the moral sense of the Senate and the country must be against the design of the Bullock party, to extend their own official terms; and accordingly, when pressed upon the point as to what he believed to be their purposes in this regard, he resorted to quibbling and evasion. The indications to-day were decidedly healthy, all tending to show that the Bullock's empire in the Senate is gone. Sawyer, of South Carolina, followed with an essay, in which he declared his purpose to sustain the Bingham amendment.—Wash. Cor. N. Y. World.

WILSON'S AMENDMENT.

Mr. Wilson offered the following as an amendment which he intends to offer to the Georgia bill: That in consequence of the delegates disorganizing, and the revolutionary proceedings of the General Assembly of Georgia, it shall be, and hereby is declared that the term of service of said General Assembly, shall date from January, 26th 1870, and shall continue until the persons to be chosen on Tuesday after the first Monday of November, 1872, as members of the General Assembly of said State, are qualified.

STEWART WANTS IT SO LOYAL MEN CAN QUIT.

Mr. Stewart was in favor of specifying the term of the expiration of the Legislature at the end of two years, when the loyal men would have an opportunity to quit the State.

Cuba—Important News.

There is a surmise current that the Administration contemplates action of a most extraordinary character upon the Cuban question, it being the recognition of the volunteer organization now holding high carnival in the principal cities of the island as the de facto government, and the accordance of belligerency thereto. This action is supposed to be a part of the policy of Mr. Fisk in his diplomacy with Madrid.

Nice girls who attend the Presidential levees think Father Grant's style of kissing them too boisterous.

FISK.

He Distinguishes Himself as a Comic Witness.

Mr. James Fisk, Jr., made his first appearance in the character of a witness in the Supreme Court yesterday, during the trial of the Erie-Vanderbilt case. Mr. Fisk at once achieved a complete success. His ability as a comedian was warmly recognized, and while he was on the stand he kept the entire audience in a state of uproarious mirth. So successful a first appearance is rare in the annals of stage or court, and Mr. Fisk may congratulate himself upon the enviable reputation which his performance has assured to him. It is to be hoped that this will not be his last appearance in the same character, for it would be unkind to the amusement-seekers of this city were he to rest satisfied with his single though signal success. He will find no difficulty in securing any quantity of engagements as a comic witness, and though he will doubtless be tempted to undertake a "starring" tour throughout the country, performing in the Boston, Philadelphia, and Chicago courts, it is certain that he will find no lack of appreciative audiences should he remain in this city. There is no lawyer who would not feel sure of his jury could he engage the services of Mr. Fisk as an eccentric witness; and we may expect to see a lively competition springing up among the members of the bar for the right to announce that "Mr. James Fisk, Jr., the celebrated comic witness, has been engaged at an immense expense, and will appear for one afternoon only, in the trial of Doe against Roe." Such an announcement would crowd the court room, delight the judge, and fill the jury with gratitude toward the enterprising lawyer who had provided so admirably for their amusement.—New York World.

REVELS.

Terence McGrant's Facts About Him Written to the New York Democrat.

We have been having a haird time wid the nager Sinator, Mishter Revels, since me lasht letter. It was found necissary to give the black divil some instruction about voting, because he was jist as liable to casht his vote for one party as another. We thried for several days to make him vote right by compelling him to watch Sumner, and vote as he did. As the nager can't remimber faces, and was apt to take Sumner for a Dimocrat, we compelled Sumner to wear a rose in his button-hole, fhich the nager kept watch of, but Buthler, just to kape his hand in, shtole the rose from Sumner for a joke, and gave it to Mishter Cox, not thinking of the consequences, and begorra, the nager watched Mishter Cox, and thin an important measure came up, he voted the same as Cox did. Cox is a Dimocrat. That won't do, you know.

But the greatest throuble we have had wid the nager Sinator was about a spache. The Dimecrats kept taunting us wid remarks about our nagur, saying that he couldn't rade or write, and couldn't make a spache to save his life. So we were in duty bound to make them belave he could do all these things, fhether he could or not. So we got a carpet-bagger thate named Bullock, Governor of Georgia, to write out a spache for the nagur, and the divil's own haird work bating it intil his head. The spache was moighty short, and ye would think aven a monkey could eventually learn to repate it, but be the howly Saint Pathrick, we have been every night for the past three weeks committing that spache to that nagur's memory. All us prominent men, such as Buthler, Sumner, Logan, and meself and me cousin Ulisses, have been taking turns sitting up wid Revels, teaching him that spache, until we are tired out. But it is all over now. Yestherday he got up in the Sinate and repated it, and did pretty well, only he got it wrong ind first, but the reporthers fixed it all right. He held up a shate of paper forninst him, and made many paple belave he was rading. Afther he got through, we all went and shuck hands wid him, and he felt relaved, but I hope he is the lasht nager we will have to tache.

A bill was introduced for transfering the appointment of Revenue Supervisors to the President.

A bill for distributing arms, or their equivalents in ordnance stores, to Southern States, due from 1861 to 1865, passed.

The Georgia bill was resumed. Drake's amendment suppresses disorders and assessment of expenses from the people. No action.

Adjourned.

In the House, bills were introduced incorporating the Indian Territory and Gulf Railroad; authorizing water gauges on the Mississippi and its tributaries; to protect alluvial lands, and improve navigations. It provides for a regular system of observations. Also, to promote commerce and amity between Mexico and the United States by encouraging citizens of the United States to aid Mexico in developing the country.

A resolution was introduced that the South and West are entitled to more circulation. The House refused to second the question, and it was referred to the Banking and Currency Committee.

Plain Words.

The Philadelphia Age thus discourses about the Bingham Amendment:

It is to defeat this proviso attached to the bill by the House, that all carpet-bagdom is up in arms, and with its Radical allies at the North, is busy filling the atmosphere with lies. The aim is, at every cost to public tranquility and the business of the country, to defer a return to free civil goverment. That is the curse of the present situation of our country. The party that has tasted the intoxication of absolute power, can not wean themselves from it.

Every day exhibits the number of the Radicals who are banded together to prevent a return to the normal condition of law and order and morality. The knaves who sell offices and pardons, will never willingly see their shop shut up. The military satraps who elect themselves or their satellites to office, never want to see such good times come to an end. The conspiracy is now against the re-establishment of free civil government. Its hope lies in constant interference by Congress, and to keep up a supply of pretexts, for that is the aim and business of a vast horde of greedy and unscupulous carpet-baggers.

CONVENTION OF COAL OPERATORS.—A special telegram to the Philadelphia Press from Pottsville, Pennsylvania, dated the 15th instant, says:

A grand convention of anthracite coal operators, representing over four millions of tons, was held here to-day. The convention agreed on the following basis: With coal at $2 50 per ton at Port Carbon; outside wages $9; inside wages $10; miners' wages $12 per week; contract work reduced thirty per cent.; all advances twenty per cent., as heretofore.

A Cotton Planter Guano and Seed Drill,

which, for general utility, durability, simplicity and cheapness, can not be excelled! It does its work more perfectly than any Machine of its character yet invented. It lays off the row, and puts in the Guano in any desired quantity, and at one and the same time—depositing the Guano in the bottom of the furrow. In planting Cotton it is wonderful in its operations. It can be attached to any common plow stock; will save its cost in labor in using one day.

PRICES:

For one Machine complete, that will plant Cotton and put in Guano, attached to plow stock	$10 00
For one Machine as above, without plow-stock	8 50
For one Machine for putting in Guano alone, without plow-stock	6 00
For same for planting Cotton, without plow-stock	6 00
For rights to manufacture one Machine	3 00

☞ As the season is so near at hand for putting in Guano and planting Cotton, and fearing our inability to manufacture enough Machines complete to supply the increasing demand, we have concluded to sell rights to manufacture to individuals, as any one capable of handling tools can make them—the price for such rights being Three Dollars each; and would suggest that each neighborhood form clubs and buy one or more Machines, as models, and buy rights and make them themselves. The great remedy to bring about this desirable end, is the medicated compound that is universally used: Solomons' Bitters. mar16-d1w

THE DAILY CONSTITUTION.

ATLANTA, GEORGIA, MARCH 22.

J. W. GOLDSMITH has a comfortable residence to rent at West End.

HANDSOME SIGN.—Dr. Bradfield has a new and unique sign at the post-office. It is the greatest thing "just out."

THE great excitement of the hour is the arrival of a handsome and wealthy young widow in the city.

ARM OFF.—A negro girl had her arm cut off by the cars on the Georgia Road, near Bell street bridge, on Saturday. She was testing their weight, and had a crushing demonstration of it.

HAY.—Messrs. Stephens, Flynn & Co. made large shipments of hay yesterday, which was not exactly shipping "hay while the sun shone."

FARMER FOGY.—The last heard from Farmer Fogy, he was "snowed up," somewhere in Pennsylvania, and not only his heart, but his body about to become frozen.

SUPPLIMENT.—We issue a Suppliment to-day, containing a large number of recommendations of the Chesapeake Guano, offered by A. K. Seago. The Chesapeake is a standard fertilizer.

CAPT. J. THOMAS GLENN, of this city, is spoken of in connection with the Senatorship from the 35th District, in case Hon J. L. Dunning resigns. The only objection urged against him is his youth. He could not learn younger.

COL. RYLAND ROSS.—We hear a rumor that Col Ryland Ross, (late of Madison) has leased the Bell House at Knoxville, Tenn. The Bell House could not have a better host to preside over it, or Knoxville a better hotel keeper.

OFF THE TRACK.—The ladies' car of a passenger train on the State Road ran off the track at Pryor street crossing, yesterday evening, tearing up a few plank, but doing no other damage.

NEW, HUMOROUS AND ORIGINAL PAPER IN ATLANTA.—Rough Rice will soon start, we earn, a humorous, illustrated, original paper, in this city, which will "shoot folly as it flies," and hit vices and foibles on the right and left.

REV. F. M. HAYGOOD.—We were pleased to meet our "friend of yore," Rev. F. M. Haygood, yesterday. He is hale and hearty, and there is many years of useful service in him yet. He is an earnest and energetic minister, and tries to prove by his acts, that his mission is to do good.

FORCIBLE ENTRY AND DETAINER.—An interesting case of forcible entry and detainer, between Mrs. Henderson and Mrs. Rose, was tried before Justice Spencer yesterday. A. M. Thrasher made a speech in behalf of Mrs. Henderson. B. H. Thrasher concludes the argument this morning, in behalf of Mrs. Rose.

THE AMERICAN BROILER.—The crowning achievement of culinary invention has been attained at length, in the American Broiler. It is simple and efficient, and equally good for beefsteak, ham, chicken, chops, fish, oysters, etc. Procured at the epicures' headquarters—F. M. Richardson's.

LOOK OUT FOR THEM.—It is reported that swindlers are perambulating the country, and purchasing produce of all kinds with counterfeit greenbacks. We advise our country readers to keep a good watch out for these gentry. Examine closely all bills offered you. Bring your produce to Atlanta yourself.

J. J. TOON, ESQ.—We regret to learn of the extreme illness of J. J. Toon, Esq., proprietor of the Franklin Printing House. He has been confined for several days, with a severe attack of pneumonia. Yesterday evening, he was reported better, though extremely weak. We sincerely trust that Mr. Toon may be restored to health and usefulness.

ADVERTISING.—One of the Chicago papers, it is stated receives over $22,000 per annum for a single column of advertisements, and the merchants there make immense fortunes.

"The Cincinnati Times says L. C. Hopkins & Co., of that city, spends $4 500 a day for advertising, and clears double that amount."

The above is very suggestive, and we commend it to our merchants here, where advertising is so much cheaper.

CRAZY NEGRO.—A crazy negro is in town who believes that he has fallen heir to an immense amount of money. He says that at the battle of Chickamauga he carried John Smith, who was wounded, off from the battle field, and waited on him. He states that Smith died a few weeks ago, and willed him all his estate. Our John Smith says that the negro is laboring under a hallucination, for he never knew a John Smith that owned any real estate—all their possessions being ideal. But the negro believes in his good fortune, and deifies the memory of the defunct John Smith.

GOLD TRANSACTION.—A woman, "fat, dark complected, and forty," bought $375 worth of gold from James, the banker, yesterday, to send over to "hold Hengland," she said. It got noised abroad, and the last we saw of her she was crossing Broad street bridge, with about fourteen life insurance agents after her to insure her life. She evidently had a big scare on, for she held to the "yellow boys" with the firm and tenacious grasp of grim death to a about to be defunct African. She retreated in good order, amid cries of insure in "Mutual," "Southern," "Equitable," etc. Judging from her size, it would require several insurance companies to go round in insuring her.

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT—For the Northern District of Georgia—Hon John Erskine, Judge.—The jury returned, on Saturday, a verdict of guilty, in the case of John C. Stephens, charged with removing spirits unlawfully. He was sentenced to three months imprisonment in the hotel de Harris.

Yesterday, Edward S. Mann was acquitted of the charge of distilling without license.

William A. Roynston was tried for dealing in liquors without paying special tax, and found guilty.

Lewis Maguire, charged with removal of spirits unlawfully, was arraigned, and pending the argument of G. S. Thomas, the court adjourned

LA RUE MINSTRELS.—The Americus Courier says of La Rue Minstrels:

"Many who attend their entertainment have not got their faces thoroughly straight yet—and we know one darkey who never will. It is a jovial troupe, and the man who fails to laugh on witnessing their pranks, either has a good deal of cotton or gold on hand, or else had the laughing apparatus left out in his original make up."

The Macon Journal thus speaks of their first appearance in Macon to a crowded house: 'If any one left the hall dissatisfied as to the merits of the performers, we should like to engage "him or her' to be used as an exclamation point, whenever we shall have occasion to close a sentence with the words, 'unreasonable grumblers.' The company has had none to equal, much less excel it, before a Macon audience, for years. The jokes were fresh, wit-pointed, and music artistic. Steve Rogers is a perfect little trump whether we consider him as banjo champion, clog dancer, or Susan Jane in Shoo Fly, one of the most ridiculous farces that ever aroused storms of laughter, or the boy of 'That Wonderful Doctor.'

"Billy Reeves, as plantation darky, was the most provocative of mirth raisers. Ricardo has the most wonderful voice for a man we have ever listened to. It is a clear soprano, sweet, full and round as a woman's. His execution of operatic airs was effected with the ease of a prima donna. Hugh Hamail sings very sweetly. The choruses were admirable. The flageolet solo, by M. Louis, was delightful and warmly encored."

AT the last regular meeting of Tallulah Fire Co., No 3, of this city, the following preamble and resolutions were offered and unanimously adopted:

Desiring to manifest our high appreciation of the manifold pleasures experienced during our visit to the tournament at Augusta, on the 22d of February, be it

Resolved, That the thanks of this Company are due, and are hereby tendered, to Vigilant Steam Fire Engine, and Hand Co. No. 3, of Augusta, for their kindness and unrivalled generosity in their reception and entertainment to us as their guests during our short sojourn, which has only served to tighten the bonds of true friendship and brotherly feeling, and render the 21st and 22d of February, 1870, one of the most pleasant recollections of the past.

Resolved, That the thanks of this Company be also tendered to the many ladies to whom we owe our undying gratitude for their encouraging smiles, happy wishes, and for the many beautiful and highly appreciated wreathes of flowers which added so much beauty and taste to our engine on the parade.

At the grand parade of Eternity, may they be more successful in the contest for the prizes offered by the Giver of all good than we were in the contest on the 22d for prizes offered by the A. F. D.

Resolved, That to the courteous and worthy Superintendent of the Georgia Railroad, S. K. Johnson, Esq., G. T. Anderson, Local Agent, and other officials whose names we can not recal at present, we tender our fireman's warm and hearty thanks for their kindness in transporting us to and from Augusta, and for other favors.

May they live long and prosper in all besetting trials of life's chequered way. Respectfully,

COMMITTEE.

Copy from Minutes.
H. C. WOODING, Secretary.

BLUE is the prevailing color for garters, which are worn above the knee.

REMOVED TO MADISON.—The Georgia Farm Journal has moved back to Madison.

THE foreman of the Wyoming jury was a Mrs. Hatcher. The jury set six days before they hatched a verdict.

THE building season is about to commence in Atlanta. As a consequence, the lumber men are hard put to it to supply the demand.

DECORATE IT.—We suggest that that great ornament to Atlanta, the Car Shed, be decorated and garlanded with flowers in May.

CARPENTERS' AND JOINERS' ASSOCIATION. We direct attention to the card of this Association. The Association is composed of sturdy, steady and skilled mechanics. Mr. N. A. Boutel, the Superintendent, is an experienced and trustworthy mechanic, and we feel no hesitancy in recommending him and his Association to public support.

OGLETHORPE COLLEGE.—We are pleased to learn that enough has been subscribed to ensure the location of Oglethorpe College in Atlanta. There is a small balance left, which we hope our citizens will subscribe before night. It is a question of dollars and cents, and will result in a rich harvest of moral and material prosperity to the entire city.

THE WEATHER.—That unfailing topic of newspapers and swains, the weather, can not be overlooked in this issue. Sunday was grandly beautiful and superbly magnificent. Yesterday there were fewer ladies, but a larger display of water fall by Dame Nature. It is hoped that old winter has "pegged out" for good and that laughing, bright and winsome spring will spring upon us at once.

AGRICULTURAL CONVENTION.—A movement is on foot to call an agricultural convention at this place in April. Whether suggested by the State Agricultural Society or not, we have not ascertained. If the spring sets in in the next ten days, farmers will be too busy with their crops to attend it, and if they do not come with their practical sense and mature wisdom, the meeting will be a failure.

GIVE IN YOUR WEALTH.—There is such an officer in the United States, known as Internal Revenue Assessor. He is a very inquisitive chap, and wants to know all your incomes and outgoes, your resources and revenues. Some festive chap has handed us a long list to fill out. We comply with the request in our own style:

NEW YORK, March 19.

Cotton receipts for the week 47,000 bales. The Financial Chronicle contains statistics showing the crop to be over 3,000,000 bales.

Brown Brothers swept the market for sterling exchange.

Cotton bills are 1-2 per cent. higher, and it is probable there will be early shipments of gold, with advanced premium.

The foreign commerce of the port was quite heavy for the week. The imports reached $7,165,245, about equally divided between general merchandize and dry goods. The exports were $3,524,928, in produce, and $785,685 in specie.

CINCINNATI, March 18.

PROVISIONS—Are still dull and some lower than when quoted last. The feeling is heavy on account of the light demand, and this market is not an exception in the case, as trade is dull at all the large provision points, as well at the distributing as the producing ones. There is more inquiry to-day than for a week past, principally from the South. Actual orders are scarce, however. But the indications are that we shall have a good trade by the first, if not sooner.

BULK MEATS—Shoulders, 9 1-4 loose, 9 1-2 packed; rib sides, 12 3-4a13; clear rib, 13 1-2; clear, 14. No demand on spot. 100,000 lbs. clear, sold at 14 1-2; hams 13, packed.

BACON—Dull, good supply; very little demand, 10 3-4a14 3-4, and 15 1-2 asked for shoulders, clear rib and clear sides. These prices can be shaded an 1-8, and probably a 1-4 on clear.

BACON—Hams, 13a15 1-2, cased and packed; price as to cut, etc.

SUGAR-CURED HAMS—Choice brands can be had at 16 1-2a17; common brands, 16. Demand very light. Stock not much reduced, compared with other years.

MESS PORK—A little city can be had at 26 00, 26 25 is the asking price—country 25 a50 cents less.

RUMPS—20a23, as to quality.

JOLES—13 00a14 00 per bbl.

DRIED BEEF—17 1-2a17 3-4 per lb.

LARD—Kettle rendered leaf is wanted at 13 3-4, and a little was sold at that early, but 14 is the asking price, and weak at that. 100 tierces prime steam sold at 13 3-4, which is considered an extreme price, very little of this grade to be had.

CHATTANOOGA, March 19.

Business for the past week has been much more lively in all departments. In corn and bacon the receipts have been quite large, both by river and rail, and ready sales have been found for all offered, at quotations. There has been but little doing in wheat, and the receipts were very light.

We notice a decline in sugars of one cent on all grades, but coffee is stiffening up, its value in gold rising as fast or faster than gold declines. The lower grades have advanced one cent. In whisky, business has been very fair, the shipments for the week footing up about thirty barrels of various grades.

BACON—Clear sides 16½; clear rib sides 16; shoulders 13; hams 16½.

GRAIN—Corn, including sacks, 1 05a1 06; Wheat, prime white, 1 30a1 35; prime Amber 1 15a1 30; prime Medit'n, 1 10; Oats, nominal, 75a78.

FLOUR—Extra, per bbl., 5 50; superfine, per bbl., 6 50; family, per bbl., 8 00.

LARD—Lard in cans and caddies, 18a19; in barrels, 17½.

HAY—Timothy, nominal, baled, per 100, 1 50; Herds Grass, nominal, baled, per 100, 1 40; Clover, nominal, baled, per 100, 1 30.

COUNTRY PRODUCE—Eggs, per dozen, 15; Butter, prime, per lb., 30; Potatoes, 1 00a1 25.

LIVE STOCK—Beef Cattle, gross, per lb., 3a3¼; hogs, gross, per lb., 7a7½.

COAL—Lump, per bushel, 16⅔; fine, per bushel, 10.

KNOXVILLE, TENN., March 19.

WHEAT—Some little inquiry from Southern millers, but at low prices. Prime white 1 15a1 20; red 1 00a1 10.

CORN—But little loose offering. Dealers are filling orders at 97½a1 00, sacked on board cars; loose from the country, 87½a90.

OATS—Receipts light. Prime black for seed is wanted, 55a60.

FLOUR—No shipping demand. Up country millers are supplying this market at 2 75a3 00 for family; extra 3 50a3 75.

BACON—Heavy. Hog round, well smoked 13a14; clear sides 15½. But few sales.

LARD—Market quiet. Prime Leaf 15a18.

SEEDS—Clover 11 00; Timothy 5 50a6 00.

HAY—Demand quiet with stock full. Prime Timothy and Herds Grass, baled, 1 25, loose; by wagon load 1 00a1 15.

RICHMOND, March 18.

The market exhibits no new features to require extended remarks. All classes of tobacco are firm and steady at quotations. Good, ripe, dark lugs, in order, will sell at 8 50 to 9 50. Other classes as quoted.

LYCHBURG, March 18.

Receipts the past week were lighter than for several past. The market was quite active, and prices fully up to quotations, with some higher sales than any heretofore made this season. All grades of working in demand, and medium grades of yellow and bright red wrappers ruled very high. Red, tough, heavy tobacco, instead of being heavily prized, as heretofore, for shipping, should be lightly packed, and in more pliant order, as such is wanted and used for wrappers.

PETERSBURG, VA., March 18.

The market is without change. The offerings are light and mostly of inferior and mixed tobacco. Tobacco of decided character in demand at full prices. We quote lugs at 7 00 to 9 00, mostly at 7 50 to 8 25. Leaf soft, 8 00 to 10 00, good 9 00 to 14 00.

KOSKOO.—This medicine is rapidly gaining the confidence of the people, and the numerous testimonials of its virtues, given by practitioners of medicine, leaves no doubt that it is a safe and reliable remedy for impurity of the blood, liver disease, etc.

The last Medical Journal contains an article from Prof. R. S. Newton, M. D., President of the E. Medical College, city of New York, that speaks in high terms of its curative properties, and gives a special recommendation of Koskoo to the practitioners of medicine. This is, we believe, the first instance where such medicines have been officially endorsed by the Faculty of any of the medical colleges, and reflects great credit upon the skill of Dr. Lawrence, its compounder, and also puts "Koskoo" in the van of all other medicines of the present day. feb26-d&w6m

PHYSICIANS USE THEM IN THEIR PRACTICE.—It is almost universally the case that Physicians condemn what are generally known as "Patent Medicines." Although DR. TUTT'S LIVER PILL is not a patent medicine, yet its composition (the result of years of study) is known only to himself, and so palpable are their valuable curative properties, that very many of the first Physicians in the South and West have adopted them in their practice, and recommend them to their patients. mch18-d1w

KOSKOO!

THE GREAT REPUTATION

Which KOSKOO has attained in all parts of country

AS A GREAT AND GOOD MEDICINE!

And the Large Numbers of Testimonials which are constantly being received from Physicians, and persons who have been cured by its use, is conclusive proof of its remarkable value.

AS A BLOOD PURIFIER,

IT HAS NO EQUAL,

BEING POSITIVELY

The Most Powerful Vegetable Alterative Yet Discovered.

DISEASES OF THE BLOOD.

"The life of the flesh is in the Blood," is a Scriptural maxim that science proves to be true. The people talk of bad blood, as the cause of many diseases, and like many popular sayings, this of bad blood is founded in truth.

The symptoms of bad blood are usually quite plain—bad Digestion—causes imperfect nutrition, and consequently the circulation is feeble, the soft tissues loose their tone and elasticity, and the tongue becomes pale, broad, and frequently covered with a pasty, white coat. This condition soon shows itself in pimples of the skin, then in eruptive and ulcerative diseases, and when long continued, results in serious lesions of the Brain, Liver, Lungs, or urinary organs. Much, very much, suffering is caused by impure blood. It is estimated by some that one-fifth of the human family are effected with scrofula in some form.

When the blood is pure, you are not so liable to any disease. Many impurities of the blood arise from [illegible] of large cities. Eradicate every impurity from the fountain of life and good spirits, fair skin and vital strength will return to you.

KOSKOO,

AS A

Liver Invigorator!

STANDS UNRIVALLED.

Being the only KNOWN Medicine that EFFICIENTLY stimulates and CORRECTS the hepatic secretions and functional DERANGEMENTS of the LIVER, WITHOUT DEBILITATING the system. While it acts freely upon the Liver instead of copious purging, it gradually changes the discharges to a perfectly natural state.

SYMPTOMS OF LIVER COMPLAINT AND OF SOME OF THOSE DISEASES PRODUCED BY IT.

A sallow or yellow color of the skin, or yellowish-brown spots on the face and other parts of the body; dullness and drowsiness, sometimes headache; bitter or bad taste in the mouth, internal heat; in many cases a dry, teasing cough; unsteady appetite; sometimes sour stomach, with a raising of the food, a bloated or full feeling about the stomach and sides; aggravating pains in the side, back, or breast, and about the shoulders; constipation of the bowels; piles, flatulence, coldness of the extremities, etc.

KOSKOO!

Is a remedy of Wonderful Efficacy in the cure of diseases of the Kidneys and Bladder. In these Affections it is as near a specific as any remedy can be. It does its work kindly, silently, and surely. The Relief which it affords is both certain and perceptible.

DISEASES OF THE KIDNEYS AND BLADDER.

Persons unacquainted with the structure and functions of the Kidneys can not estimate the importance of their healthy action.

Regular and sufficient action of the Kidneys is as important, may, even more so, than regularity of the bowels. The Kidneys remove from the Blood those effete matters which, if permitted to remain, would speedily destroy life. A total suspension of the urinary discharge will occasion death from thirty-six to forty-eight hours.

When the Urine is voided in small quantities at the time, or when there is a disposition to Urinate more frequently than natural, or when the Urine is high colored or scalding with weakness in the small of the back, it should not be trifled with or delayed, but Koskoo should be taken at once to remedy the difficulty, before a breach in the organs takes place. Most of the diseases of the Bladder originate from those of the Kidneys, the Urine being imperfectly secreted in the Kidneys, prove irritating to the bladder and Urinary passages. When we recollect that medicine never reaches the Kidneys through the general circulation of the Blood, we see how necessary it is to keep the Fountain of Life Pure.

KOSKOO!

Meets with GREAT SUCCESS in the CURE of

DISEASES OF THE NERVOUS SYSTEM.

Almost nine-tenths of our people suffer from nervous exhaustion, and, therefore, liable to its concomitant evils of mental depression, confused ideas, softening of the brain, insanity, and complete breaking down of the general health. Thousands are daily [illegible] down nervous systems, and, unfortunately, tobacco, alcohol, [illegible] physical), [illegible] system to increase [illegible].

The symptoms to which diseases of the nervous system give rise, are as follows:

A dull, heavy feeling in the head, sometimes more or less pain or headache; Periodical Headache, Dizziness, Noises or Ringing in the Head; Confusion of Ideas; Temporary Loss of Memory; Dejection of Spirits; Starting during Sleep; Bad Dreams; Hesitation in Answering Questions; Dullness of Hearing; Twitching of the Face and Arms, etc., which, if neglected or ill treated, lead to Paralysis, Delirium, Insanity, Impotency, Apoplexy, etc., etc.

DR. JOHN BULL'S Great Remedies.

DR. JOHN BULL,

Manufacturer and Vendor of the Celebrated

Smith's Tonic Syrup,

FOR THE CURE OF

AGUE AND FEVER,

Chills and Fever.

The proprietor of this celebrated medicine justly claims for it a superiority over all remedies ever offered to the public for the safe, certain, speedy and permanent cure of Ague and Fever, or Chills and Fever, whether of short or long standing. He refers to the entire Western and Southern country to bear him testimony to the truth of the assertion, that in no case whatever will it fail to cure, if the directions are strictly followed and carried out. In a great many cases a single dose has been sufficient for a cure, and whole families have been cured by a single bottle, with a perfect restoration of the general health. It is, however, prudent, and in every case more certain to cure, if its use is continued in smaller doses for a week or two after the disease has been checked, more especially in difficult and long-standing cases. Usually, this medicine will not require any aid to keep the bowels in good order; should the patient, however, require a cathartic medicine, after having taken three or four doses of the Tonic, a single dose of BULL'S VEGETABLE FAMILY PILLS will be sufficient.

Bull's Worm Destroyer.

To my United States and World-wide Readers.

I have received many testimonials from professional and medical men, as my almanacs and various publications have shown, all of which are genuine. The following letter from a highly educated and popular physician in Georgia, is certainly one of the most sensible communications I have ever received. Dr. Clement knows exactly what he speaks of, and his testimony deserves to be written in letters of gold. Hear what the Doctor says of BULL'S WORM DESTROYER:

VILLANOW, Walker County, Ga., June 29, 1869.

DR. JOHN BULL—Dear Sir: I have recently given your "Worm Destroyer" several trials, and find it wonderfully efficacious. It has not failed in a single instance to have the wished for effect. I am doing a pretty large country practice, and have daily use for some article of the kind. I am free to confess that I know of no remedy recommended by the ablest authors that is so certain and speedy in its effects. On the contrary, they are uncertain in the extreme. My object in writing you is to find out upon what terms I can get the medicine direct from you. If I can get it upon easy terms, I shall use a great deal of it. I am aware that the use of such articles is contrary to the teachings and practice of a great majority of the regular line M. D.'s, but I see no just cause or good sense in discarding a remedy which we know to be efficient, simply because we may be ignorant of its combination. For my part, I shall make it a rule to use all and any means to alleviate suffering humanity which I may be able to command—not hesitating because some one more ingenious than myself may have learned its effects first, and secured the sole right to secure that knowledge. However, I am by no means an advocate or supporter of the thousands of worthless nostrums that flood the country, that purport to cure all manner of diseases to which human flesh is heir. Please reply soon, and let me know your best terms. I am, sir, most respectfully,

JULIUS P. CLEMENT, M. D.

Bull's Sarsaparilla.

A Good Reason for the Captain's Faith.

READ THE CAPTAIN'S LETTER AND THE LETTER FROM HIS MOTHER.

BENTON BARRACK'S, Mo., April 30, 1866.

DR. JOHN BULL—Dear Sir: Knowing the efficiency of your Sarsaparilla, and the healing and beneficial qualities it possesses, I send you the following statement of my case.

I was wounded two years ago—was taken prisoner and confined for sixteen months. Being moved so often, my wounds have not healed yet. I have not sat up a moment since I was wounded. I am shot through the hips. My general health is impaired, and I need something to assist nature. I have more faith in your Sarsaparilla than in anything else. I wish to get that which is genuine. Please express me half a dozen bottles, and oblige.

Capt. C. P. JOHNSON,
St. Louis, Mo.

P. S.—The following was written April 30, 1866, by Mrs. Jane Johnson, mother of Captain Johnson:

DR. BULL—Dear Sir: My husband, Dr. C. S. Johnson, was a skillful surgeon and physician in Central New York, where he died, leaving the above C. P. Johnson to my care. At thirteen years of age he had a chronic diarrhoea and scrofula, for which I gave him your Sarsaparilla. IT CURED HIM. I have for ten years recommended it to many in New York, Ohio and Iowa, for scrofula, fever sores and general debility. Perfect success has attended it. The cures effected in some cases of scrofula and fever sores were almost miraculous. I am very anxious for my son to again have recourse to your Sarsaparilla. He is fearful of getting a spurious article, hence his writing to you for it. His wounds were terrible, but I believe he will recover.

ST. PATRICK'S BIRTH DAY.

The following humorous verses, from the pen of a popular Irish novelist, explain how the differences as to the birth day of Ireland's patron saint were finally adjusted:

'Twas on the aighth of March, as some people say,
Betwixt midnight and morn, Patrick first saw the day;
While some would contend on the ninth he was born,
And it was all a mistake betwixt midnight and morn.
Some fought for the aighth, for the ninth some would die,
And who wouldn't see right got a shocking black eye.
At last the contintion so positive grew,
That each kept a birth day, and St. Patrick had two,
Till Father McCauley, who showed thim their sins,
Said, "No man can have two birth days 'cept he be twins;
Don't always be fighting for aight or for nine—
Don't be always dividin', but sometimes kimbine.
Kimbine aight wid nine, SEVENTEEN is the mark,
Let that be his birth day!" "Amen," says the clark.
So they all got blind drunk, which complated their bliss,
And they've kept up the practice from that day to this.

TOBACCO REVENUE FROM VIRGINIA.—Supervisor Presbury makes the following official statement of collections from tobacco in Virginia:

The collections from tobacco in this State for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1866, amounted to $225,928.58; for the fiscal year of 1867, $274,692.94; for the fiscal year of 1868, $413,912.85; for the fiscal year ending June, 1869, $1,472,372.75; making the total collections for four years prior to July 1, 1869, $2,386,908.12. The collections made by stamps on tobacco for eight months of the present year, beginning July 1, 1869, amounted to $2,782,712.78, or $395,804.67 more than was collected in the four years previous. The collections for the remaining four months of the present fiscal year, ending June, 1870, will make the aggregate tax from tobacco at least $4,250,000. There has been shipped in bond in the last eight months 11,716,319 pounds, the tax upon which is largely paid in Northern cities. The prospects of the trade by the coming season are very flattering. The revenue service under the administration of the present officers promises large additions to the collections during the coming year.

The New York Mail suggests to Mr. Reverdy Johnson as an excellent title for his forthcoming account of his English experience: "On treats and treaties."

A portrait of John Brown is to be hung in the Kansas State Capitol, at the expense of the Commonwealth.

THE WILLINGHAM FERTILIZER

FOR COTTON, CORN, WHEAT.

THIS STANDARD MANURE, named after a well known practical Planter of Georgia and South Carolina, combines in a concentrated form all the fertilizing elements necessary for the production of COTTON, CORN and WHEAT, and by its use is certain to increase not only the yield, but to improve the quality of the products. It is made with a special view to the wants of the soils of the South, and can be relied upon as to excellence of material, containing highly necessary substances, the great cost of which have heretofore precluded their being in common use. It can be depended on as uniform, always reliable, and productive of good crops.

ALBANY, GA., September, 1869.

Having a full knowledge of the composition and process of manufacture of the "Willingham Cotton, Corn, Wheat and Rice Fertilizer," I have no hesitation in pronouncing it to be a most reliable fertilizer, one of the best in use, and most particularly adapted to the soil of Georgia and South Carolina.
